This plan gives details on how the system will be developed, this includes deliverables of each phase. Each phase will be presented and upon acceptance (by Client or Customer), the developer will move on to the phase. All of these phases will be integrated together after the development of the last one, to give the whole system.

Blogsign Up system will be divided into three(3) phases of development, each of them having a deliverable. These phases include:

Phase 1. The Design Phase & Information gathering

- This gives a design on how Blogsign Up ~ will look like to its users (people finding a lover). This will also give all the requirements for the whole system.

Phase 2. The System Analysis and Implementations of some Functions

- This is the interesting part. Analysis of all the gathered information from phase one.
- Here also there will be implementations of the changes made after phase 1 above if any.
- Integration of the design and some functionalities such (Signing Up and Profiling for the Users)

Phase 3. Major Integrations and Wrapping Up

- Integrations of the payment methods such as Visa and Master cards and others.
- Final changes
